Automotive WORKSHOPS

G.I.S. Distributing Training Program

A big part of our marketing strategy for growth includes finding qualified people and positioning them for success in the automotive window tinting business. We start by screening each candidate and evaluating the possibilities.

We also train new employees for our existing dealer base. As our dealers grow they add techs and prefer to have them trained by a professional.

When our dealer loses his tech we are quick to move in and train his replacement immediately.
